

The Berar General Education Society's
Shri. Kisanlal Nathmal Goenka Arts & Commerce College,
Karanja Lad, Dist. Washim

Course Outcomes Home Economics PG

M. A. Part 1 Semester I

Course (Paper) Name and Code: Family Resource Management (2111)

PO1 - Determine the problems and challenges of home and family.

PO2 - Develop the student's understanding regarding home influences on the individual, schools and community.

PO3- Design a workable plan in the household budget, make appropriate decisions apply the decision-making process.

PO4- Prepare a diet plan. Create innovative recipes and therapeutic diet to counter nutritional problems and maintain the health of the family.

PO5– Formulate qualitative designs and descriptive survey using questionnaires, interviews, observations, and document investigation to collect, analyze and interpret the collected data pertaining to the study.

PO6– Compare knowledge of consumer rights and responsibilities, consumer choices, investment and saving, market demands and supply laws, e-purchasing, and consumer protection.

PO7– Provide specific experiencing staff required for professional Home-Economics employment and self-employment.

M. A. Part 1 Semester I

Course (Paper) Name and Code: Family Resource Management (2111)

CO1 - Apply the Knowledge of energy and time management.

CO2 - Make their carrier in the field of Event Management.

CO3 - Evaluate plan activities use of decision-making steps.

CO4- Design Event plan by applying knowledge of different types of resources.

M. A. Part 1 Semester I

Course (Paper) Name and No.: Human Development (2112)

CO1-Determine child development problems by studying and applying study methods.

CO2-Evaluate the obstacles in early and late childhood.

CO3- Create a sense of personal care and beauty in every phase of daily living.CO4-

Apply obtained knowledge in pre-school and childcare institution.

CO5- Develop employability and self-employment skills applicable in child care and learning.

M. A. Part 1 Semester I

Course (Paper) Name and No.: Textile Clothing and Fashion Designing(2113)

CO1-Evaluate and differentiate between Textile Fiber.

CO2-Determine and identify general and unique finishes.

CO3-Apply Fabric Printing to decorate garments.

CO4- Describe three of Fabric Construction Methods.

CO5-Generate employment using the different regional embroidery patterns and become entrepreneurs.

Practical-

CO1 – Develop the skill of designing a paper pattern for different types of garments.

CO2 – Enhance the ability how to apply the latest fashion in clothing construction.

M. A. Part 1 Semester I

Course (Paper) Name and No.: Research Methodology and Statistics (2114)

CO1-Realize the meaning, process and importance of research in Home-Economics.

CO2-Identify problem, tools and methods for conducting research.

CO3- Interpret Data manually as well as on the computer.

CO4- Develop inclination and skill in preparing a report.

CO5- Apply the skill of computers in statistics.

M. A. Part I Semester II

Course (Paper) Name and No.: Family Resource Management (2115)

CO1 -Applied and counseling about the work simplification and Budget making.

CO2 -Make carrier in the field of Interior Decoration.

CO3- Evaluate and planning the family Budget.

M. A. Part I Semester II

Course (Paper) Name and No.: Human Development (2116)

CO1 –After completing, the course, the student should be able to.

CO2 – Develop and nurtures their personality traits.

CO3- Apply the knowledge of children's rights.

CO4 - Solve the problems of old-age senior citizens through counseling and as a responsible Citizens.

CO5 - Recognize the problems of adulthood and to solve through counseling.

CO6 – Work as consultants in the social welfare department and child welfare unit.

M. A. Part I Semester II

Course (Paper) Name and No.: Textile Clothing and Fashion Designing(2117)

CO1 –The students will be able to apply and use different types of seems, Fullness, sleeve, Neckline and collars in garment construction.

CO2 – The students will be able to explain and describe the difference between the Traditional costume of Indian Male and females.

CO3–To acquire knowledge of body measurements.

CO4 – The students will be able to explain the Traditional Textile of India in their own words.

Practical-

CO1 – Develop the skill of designing a paper pattern for different types of garments.

CO2 – Enhance the ability how to apply the latest fashion in clothing construction.

M. A. Part I Semester II

Course (Paper) Name and No.: Research Methodology and Statistics (2118)

CO1 – Define the meaning, process and importance of research in Home-Economics.

CO2 – Criticize problem, tools and methods of conducting research.

CO3 – Interpret Data manually as well as on a computer.

CO4 – Develop inclination and skill in preparing a report.

CO5 – Realize the use of computers in statistics.